A Force of nature

Force Ngwira, once a woodcarver and direct contributor to the deforestation of Malawi, is now Country Director of RIPPLE Africa and leads 150 full time staff and some 4,000 volunteers, managing a series of environmental programs.

Amongst these is our tree planting campaign where his team have planted over eight million trees – most of them thanks to Fruitful Office.

Force is a finalist of the Tusk Award for Conservation in Africa 2018.
